Using the PDF Files:

For best results when using the PDF files on this CD, install the Acrobat Reader with Search. For your convenience, this CD contains the Acrobat Reader with Search for several platforms. To install the Acrobat Reader with Search, do the following:

1. In the `Acrobat Reader with Search` directory, locate the desired platform directory.
2. In the desired platform directory, install the Acrobat Reader using the setup program provided.

You can also download the latest Acrobat Reader for your platform from the following URL:

http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html.

Note: At this time, Acrobat Reader with Search is not available for the Linux platform. Acrobat Reader without search is available and is provided on this CD.

After you have installed the Acrobat Reader with Search, you can:

- View the PDF files directly from this CD by clicking one of collection links in the left pane and then clicking the desired book in that collection.
- Use the Search button on the Acrobat Reader toolbar to search across all books in the Progress and WebSpeed documentation set.
- Use the Print button in Acrobat Reader to print the PDF file.

If you prefer, you can copy the PDF files from the CD to your machine. To retain the ability to search and jump between the Progress books, you must copy all of the files and directories from the CD to your machine in the directory structure that is defined on the CD. For Windows platforms, we've provided a self extracting ZIP file called `Progress Documentation.exe` for this purpose. This file is located in the `ZIP` directory on the PDF CD. To extract the files, simply double-click the `Progress Documentation.exe` file.
